

COURSES

The following courses were offered during 1943-1944 and represent the area covered in a given year. The curriculum for 1944-45 may be somewhat more limited than this, especially in the fall term, since several unexpected faculty replacements are having to be made. For other courses that may be available consult the College catalogue. Courses are given when there is sufficient demand. Tutorials for advanced students are given when need arises, and are not listed below.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Twentieth Century Politics	Fall
The Roots of Modern Poetry	Fall
Europe 1453-1789	Winter
The Evolution of Modern Ideas	Winter
Cultural History of the Eighteenth Century	Summer
Europe 1789-1914	Spring
Drama Since Ibsen	Spring
American History	Fall, winter, spring
American Government	Winter, spring
Social Problems	Fall, winter, spring
Population	Fall
American Minorities	Winter
World Minorities	Summer
Religious Trends	Spring
South American Cultures	Winter, spring
General Anthropology	Winter, spring
Social Psychology	Fall, winter
General Psychology	Spring
Philosophy: Faust, Poetics	Winter, spring
Philosophical Classics: Plato	Summer

LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE

Beginning French	Fall, winter, spring
French Literature of the Nineteenth Century	Fall, winter, spring
French Literature of the Eighteenth Century	Summer
Beginning German	Fall, winter, spring
Advanced German	Fall, winter, spring
Beginning Russian	Fall, winter, spring
Advanced Russian	Fall, winter, spring
Reading of Russian Classics	Fall, winter, spring
Beginning Spanish	Winter, spring
Advanced Spanish	Winter, spring
The English Literary Tradition	Fall, winter, spring
The Art of Poetry	Fall